

Vote Steve Trash to Become the New Green Jobs Czar

“Rockin’ Eco Hero” & Entertainer, Steve Trash, is running for Green Jobs Czar.

Steve Trash is the guy that needs to be advising the president. He know business. He knows being green. That’s why HE’S THE PERFECT PERSON to be the Green Jobs Czar.

Who is Steve Trash? Steve Trash is a husband, a father, a business owner and an entertainer. He’s had his own small business for over 25 years (Concrete Dream Inc.). He’s made payroll. He’s paid company taxes. He’s paid personal taxes. He’s borrowed money for expansion of his company. He’s hired people. He’s fired people. He’s taken business risks. He’s succeeded at some and failed at others. But, he’s ALSO a strong advocate for the environment. He has been for over 25 years. (He’s toured the planet – reaching over 20 million fans – teaching them about the magic of Reducing, Reusing, Recycling with his Green Magic Show. He lives in a very energy efficient home in beautiful Frog Pond, Alabama. He constantly looks for ways to be have a successful business AND reduce his footprint on the planet.

He walks the walk.

So people of America, blue and red state friends alike, think about this: Wouldn’t you like to have a GREEN JOBS CZAR that is both a business person AND an advocate for the environment? Our economy and environment NEEDS some green magic (both money and environment green). America needs a Hero advising the president.

Please vote Steve Trash for Green Jobs Czar adviser to the president...
